

NEW JERSEY TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIPS MEETS DEFEAT IN ANNUAL TITLE EVENT

WARD WEAKENS IN EXTRA SET MATCH

Falls Before Bodkin of Harlem in Upset on Montclair Court.

KASHIO KEEPS WINNING

Scores Double Triumph and Is Unextended in Reaching Fifth Round.

It was the champion's turn to meet unexpected defeat yesterday in the New Jersey title tennis tournament at the Montclair Athletic Club. Considerably off stroke and lacking his customary vim, Vanderbilt D. Ward was eliminated in the fifth round of the tournament by Philip O. Bodkin. The Harlem Tennis Club champion outscored and outstayed Ward in the latter stages of a three set match, and the score—4, 3-6, 6-1—tells the story of the title holder's loss of power and control in the final division of play.

While Ward had not been favored to retain the title, he had been expected to advance at least another round, with a fair chance of reaching the final. He was right on his game in the early rounds of the tournament and played versatile, impressive tennis. He started promisingly yesterday and then slumped and slumped in turn until his play became too erratic to save the contest. He was slow in getting to the net and more often than not in the final set pounded the ball into the net for costly errors. Bodkin played a well rounded, steady game that bids fair to trouble his opponent in the semi-final.

It was a day of spirited tennis, the cool weather lending aggressive play. Selichro Kashio, who has come to be regarded as the favorite for the title, won two matches with comparative ease, defeating S. Onda, another Japanese, in the third round, and Hugh Oakley of Montclair in the fourth. In each case the crafty Japanese allowed his opponent five games in the two sets, but it was apparent that he was well extending himself and that he might have won far more decisively had he cared to.

Bodkin now stands alone in the semi-final. In the preceding round there are six other survivors. They are Kashio, who is bracketed with Gerald Emerson; Carl Joffit, who is to meet Irving Elchik of New York University in the fifth round; and Herbert L. Bowman, who is to play R. C. Van Vleet.

In by far the most spectacular match of the day Van Vleet triumphed over Jack Dudley, a local product and Swarthmore collegian, in straight sets at 6-4, 6-2. The tussle was much closer than the score indicates, for the rallies were hard fought and of a brilliant order. Dudley, who surprised and defeated Edward Oelsner, New Jersey's top ranking player, in an early round, started impressively, taking the first two games of the match, but Van Vleet came through with a splendid rally in a series of short range volleying duels and low swift driving exchanges took six games in a row for the set.

In the second set Van Vleet had to fight just as hard for his points, but Dudley assisted his advance materially by errors at critical stages. Gerald Emerson defeated Armand L. Bruneau, and Carl Joffit disposed of Paul Martin with plenty to spare. The summary:

THIRD ROUND.
Selichro Kashio defeated S. Onda, 6-3, 6-2.

MISS BANCROFT IS EXTENDED TO WIN

Tennis Favorite in Apawamis Event Bothered by Lack of Control.

By SAMUEL J. BROOKMAN.

Miss Lester Bancroft of Boston is still having trouble with control just as she did in the Pelham invitation singles a week ago. That explains why she narrowly escaped dropping the first set of her match with Miss Marion Chapman in the Apawamis open tennis tournament yesterday. To be more exact it explains it partly. There was another reason for the long hard fought twenty-game set and it was the remarkable steadiness and agility of Miss Chapman, who covered court with unusual speed, sent everything back that was anywhere within reach of her racquet, and made the Boston girl to earn the majority of her points.

It was Miss Chapman's persistency and earnestness that made the match decidedly interesting. Miss Bancroft had the greater speed of stroke and in the deep court rallies her advantage in pace and power had Miss Chapman racing all over the court. Had she been able to match Miss Chapman in control of the racket, only when she ended the match quickly for she was the aggressor all through and had Miss Chapman playing a defensive game. It was all back court and the rallies were well sustained as a rule. After yielding the first set at 11-9, Miss Chapman held her own for six games of the second and then tired as the result of the effort to keep pace with her opponent.

The contest proved to be the closest of the day all the others in singles ended in straight sets, with the scores more or less decisive. Miss Florence Ballin, who is favored to reach the final with Miss Bancroft proved too skilful, too fast and too versatile for Mrs. Ingo Hartmann, who she defeated at 6-1, 6-3. Five others who advanced were Miss Rosamond Newton of Boston, who is the first to gain the semi-final bracket; Miss Edna Hauselt, Mrs. Theodora Solt, Miss Mary Heaton and Mrs. Samuel Waring. Miss Bancroft meets Miss Hauselt to-day for the privilege of playing Miss Newton in one semi-final, and the winner of the Miss Ballin-Mrs. Waring match will have the winner of the Mrs. Solt-Miss Heaton contest as an opponent in the other semi-final.

Miss Hauselt, who has been the surprise of the tournament, continued to play effectively despite lack of stroke perfection. Mrs. N. W. Farlee, heading the list, kept the ball true and to Miss Hauselt's weak backhand at every opportunity, but found to her surprise that her opponent had the speed and the strength to run around the back and take it on the forehand. When Mrs. Farlee attempted to angle her shots too sharply she overrode the lines and found it unprofitable to take too many chances. In the meantime Miss Hauselt, by deep forcing shots and some alert, decisive volleying, was keeping her opponent too busy with defence to pay much attention to attack. The former ended the match with the loss of only two games, 6-2, 6-0.

SINGLES-THIRD ROUND.
Miss Leslie Bancroft defeated Miss Marion Chapman, 11-9, 6-3.
Miss Edna Hauselt defeated Mrs. N. W. Farlee, 6-2, 6-0.

Mrs. J. C. Bailey and Mrs. H. V. Kaltenborn defeated Miss R. Golden and Mrs. N. Schiff, 6-2, 0-6, 6-4.

Mlle. Lenglen Likely to Pass Up Title Defense

Father Says That Weak Heart May Force Suzanne to Abandon Tennis Singles at Wimbledon—Mrs. Mallory Chagrined Over the Report From Paris.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. New York Herald Bureau, Paris, June 13.

Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen wants to play at Wimbledon, but her father refuses his consent until her doctors proclaim that there is absolutely no danger of serious heart complications. "Suzanne is under the care of the best doctors available," her father told The New York Herald correspondent this afternoon. "The new ruling that will make her defend the world's title, which she holds, should she decide to play, would make her play through at least the first and second sets before reaching the final; and it is a question whether this will be too great an effort."

"Although I am against letting her take any chances with her health, if her doctor says 'Yes' she will defend her title at Wimbledon the end of this month. In any event she will not disappoint her admirers entirely, as she will play in both the ladies' and mixed doubles."

M. Lenglen characterizes his daughter's affection as sympathetic rather than of an athletic kind, declaring that it is the excitement over the result of a game which provides her temporary weakness rather than actual strenuous physical exercise to which she submits herself on the courts, all doctors agreeing that organically she is stronger than the average male athlete.

'Skeptical if Suzanne Wants to Play,' Says Molla.

LONDON, June 13 (Associated Press).—The English lawn tennis world is perturbed over the report from Paris that Miss Suzanne Lenglen, for two years the holder of the women's grass court championship, has developed heart trouble and her family is insisting that she withdraw from the coming championship tournament at Wimbledon.

There has been much expectancy over a possible meeting at Wimbledon between the French girl and Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, the American woman singles champion, who since coming to England has rounded into form and now is playing at the top of her game.

Mrs. Mallory had been anticipating another meeting with Mlle. Lenglen, and to-day when she learned the news from Paris she said:

"I am extremely disappointed over Mlle. Lenglen's threatened failure to defend her title. I am skeptical regarding her recent statement saying how much she wants to play me again. I don't think she is likely to face me again across the tennis net."

Mrs. Mallory is said to have come to Europe especially with the hope of having another match with the French star, who after Mlle. Lenglen had definitely declared she would play through all the championship rounds. Much sympathy has been extended to Mrs. Mallory in her threatened disappointment.

In the Kent tennis championship at Beckenham Mrs. Mallory has had two comfortable victories in the early rounds. Her first strong opponent will be Mrs. Peacock, former champion of India, in the fourth round of the singles. Mrs. Peacock recently defeated Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California and Miss McKane and Mrs. Beamish, two sterling British players.

Hoover Will Ask Baynes to Compete in America

Belyea Believes Australian Sculler Will Race Here.

St. JOHN, N. B., June 13.—Walter Hoover, national sculling champion and winner of the recent Gold cup race at Philadelphia, has been authorized to invite Arthur Baynes, Australian title holder, to compete in this country this summer.

Hoover will deliver the invitation at Henley, England, where both scullers will compete for the Diamond Sculls trophy next month.

This statement was made here to-day by Hilton Belyea, Canadian champion, upon his return from Philadelphia, where he finished third in the Gold cup race. Belyea also stated that he had reconsidered his determination to retire from active competition and would now in the Canadian and United States championships later in the season.

According to Belyea it is hoped that Baynes will return to America with Hoover and in addition to competing in the championship regatta take part in another race for the gold cup in which Hoover will defend the trophy against a field of high class scullers.

Richard A. Glendon to Leave Annapolis Crews

Rowing Coach Has Served Middies Twenty-one Years.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 13.—Richard A. Glendon, who for twenty-one consecutive years has coached the Naval Academy rowing teams, has announced that he would not return to the Naval Academy next year and that he is considering several offers from other colleges.

While there is general regret here at the announcement it was not entirely unexpected. It has been known for some time that Glendon might consider other fields when his contract with the Academy was at an end. This will take place after the race at Poughkeepsie, that marking the close of the Academy rowing season and the end of the three year contract which Glendon had with the Academy athletic officials.

YALE'S BLUE CREW SELECTED FOR RACE

Shows Fine Form in Four Mile Test Down Stream on the Thames.

GALES Ferry, Conn., June 13.—The Heavy Yale varsity crew, known as the Blue boat, virtually was assured of selection as Yale's varsity eight for the Harvard regatta by its showing on the Thames late to-day. The Blue crew showed fine form in a four mile test which was rowed down stream in what was described as excellent time. For the first two miles the Blue shell had the White crew as its competitor. The Blues took the lead at the start and crossed the two mile mark five lengths ahead of the Whites. The latter crew then dropped out, and the Yale freshmen, who had been waiting at this point, took up the race. The first year boat kept even with the Blues for some distance, forging ahead at one point and then dropping back again.

At the three and one-half mile mark Stroke Ewing of the Blues raised the stroke to 32. The oarsmen responded well, and the varsity finished a winner over the freshmen by half a length.

The heavy varsity was boated as follows: Row, Russell; No. 2, Sheffield; No. 3, Bigelow; No. 4, Rockefeller; No. 5, Spencer; No. 6, McElwray; No. 7, Haines; stroke, Ewing; coxswain, Chase.

Harvard Second Varsity Beats First Crew Five Lengths
